

1. The index can be helpful on q1). By setting up an unclustered index on hospital's annual budget, it helps to find the hospitals that have the annual budget in a certain range.
2. The index can be helpful on q2). By setting up an unclustered index on people's date of birth, it helps to find the people from certain age range faster.
3. The index can be helpful on q3)b). BY setting up an unclustered index on the city name that people are living in, it helps to find the people from each city faster.
4. The index can be helpful on q9). By setting up an unclustered index on what diseases people have been diagnosed with, it helps to find the people with certain disease faster.